

Spring into Wellsway

Offering spectacular views across the city, Wellsway sits on the southern slopes on Bath and has become a hugely popular area with house-buyers over recent years.

Offering an array of shops, parks, schools and pubs the area brings together a great community without having to journey down the hill into the city centre.

Bear Flat sits in the centre of Wellsway and houses several local shops, from barbers and hairdressers to florists, delis and bistros. The Royal Photographic Society is also situated on Bear Flat.

The pretty, tree-lined residential avenues leading off the main road make up Poet's Corner; with Shakespeare, Kipling and Milton Avenue and Chaucer and Byron Road some of the most desirable settings for family homes in the area. Located just beyond these streets is Alexandra Park, which provides impressive views of the city and surrounding wooded hills and valleys. The park was acquired by the city of Bath in 1896 and opened to the public in 1902 to commemorate the coronation of Edward VII, and named in honour of Queen Alexandra.

This 11 acre park has extensive lawns and is surrounded by trees and flowers, making it a popular destination for walkers. It also has a bowling green, tennis courts and children's play area making it perfect for both younger and older residents.

Further up the hill, golfers will treasure Entry Hill golf course, and the spectacular views and picturesque setting nestled amongst the trees, make it a stunning location for a game in the winter sun.
